

Discussion Questions (5-2-2010):

1. How have you been doing in the last several weeks addressing the "Gap" between "Who you are" and "The Me You Want To Be"?
2. One of the things that has become very evident to me is that we generally have become very proficient at compartmentalizing our faith. Why do you think that we do this?
3. Read Exodus 20:8-11. This is the fourth commandment. Have you ever realized before this weekend that the command to honor the Sabbath also includes a declaration about the other 6 days of the week as well?
4. When you think about what you do for work, what kind of thoughts and feelings do you have regarding your responsibilities? Why is it so hard for us to see our "work week" as another place for us to live on purpose for God?
5. This week we talked about 3 things that we need to do in order to be, "The Me I Want To Be At Work". We must maintain a...

- Priestly Focus
- Passion to Contribute
- Pleasure in Diversity

Which of these was most important for you to learn and be reminded of? Why?

6. Read Ephesians 4:6-7. I enjoy the way the Message Paraphrase Translation reads,

"One God and Father of all, who rules over all, works through all, and is present in all. Everything you are and think and do is permeated with Oneness. 7 But that doesn't mean you should all look and speak and act the same. Out of the generosity of Christ, each of us is given his own gift."

Why is diversity so important? What does it mean to have "oneness" without "sameness"? How can we see beauty in God's plan for "Me to be me" and "You being you" while at the same time enjoying how our differences work together?

7. Near the end of our message this week I made this statement. "We are the ones to make our work significant, not the other way around." In light of all that we have talked about this week what does this mean?
8. Be sure to conclude your group praying about any special needs and also pray for each other as we take these steps toward becoming, "The Me I Want To Be".
